FUNERAL TRAIN IN WASHINGTON BY MIDNIGHT

MIDDLE WEST PAYS FULL HOMAGE TO DEAD PRESIDENT

SO MANY CROWD TO SEE FUNERAL TRAIN THAT SCHEDULE IS DELAYED.

MRS. HARDING ANXIOUS TO RETURN TO WASHINGTON IN FULL DAYLIGHT

(By United Press)
Aboard the President Harding Funeral Train, Aug. 6.—The funeral train that is bearing President Harding's remains back to Washington will not reach the national capital until after 5 o'clock this evening, Baltimore & Ohio officials said. At Akron the train was more than four hours behind time.

Miss Abigail Harding, sister of the dead president, and Mrs. Carl W. Sawyer of Marion, Ohio, boarded the train at Willard and went at once to join Mrs. Harding.

Ten thousand persons who had stood since dawn silently paid tribute during the 20 minute stop, the only one in Ohio.

The delay in the special's progress, due to a multiplicity of causes, largely concerned with the middle west's desire to pay its full measure of homage to the late president, is a source of serious annoyance and regret to Mrs. Harding.

She had wanted the return to Washington to be made in full daylight in the early afternoon before the evening shadows fell across the lawns of the White House, to which all that is mortal of President Harding now is being taken for the last time. But apparently there was no help for the loss of time.

It all began at Chapell, Nebraska, Sunday, when a tire came off the driving wheel of an engine. Since then bad luck appears to have dogged the special, which, up to that time, had been running well on schedule. It has never been on schedule since, and has, in fact, lost steadily. Unless new delays intervene it will be the very end of the day.

Hours were lost in Chicago yesterday when a brakebeam broke just outside the city. A hot box developed, and no arrangements had been made to provide ice and water for those of the funeral party on the train.

In addition, failure of Chicago police to keep huge crowds off the tracks forced the train, once it did get started, to worm its way cautiously through the throngs. It proceeded slowly after getting under way, and once it was brought to a sudden, jarring stop just in time to avoid hitting a venturesome member of the crowd who dashed across the tracks in its path. When finally the train was started in earnest, it was more than four hours late.

Desire on the part of the officials of the Baltimore & Ohio to make up some of the lost time was handicapped by Mrs. Harding's ban on excessive speed and by the vast throngs that grew in number as the day waxed on, until slower and slower time was made, that everyone might have an opportunity to catch a fleeting glimpse of the flower-strewn casket in the last car.

These people twice before had sent Harding to Washington, once as senator and again as president. They sent him then with their plaudits ringing in his ears, but today, his third and last journey, they sent him cold in death and their only tribute silence more eloquent than any words in which they might have tried to phrase their sorrow.

Every Ohio village along the line sent its full quota to wait long hours until the special train came in sight. The state paid its full measure of tribute, some people waiting in the darkness three, four and five hours without sight of the train.

Unless further delays develop, arrangements made for reception of the remains at Washington and the simple cortege to the White House will be gone through with. The body will rest tonight in the East Room of the White House, and will be

FINAL PREPARATIONS TO RECEIVE BODY

Temporary White House, Washington, Aug. 7.—The nation's capital made final preparations today for the receiving of the body of the late President Harding.

As the hours slipped by business was shut down, offices closed and the city gave itself over to mourning.

Bulletins from the slowly creeping train, which is bearing the funeral party toward Washington, indicated that the body would not reach here until late tonight, forcing some slight revision in the original plans.

The military escort which came over from Fort Myer to accompany the casket and reverent procession from the station to the White House was notified that they would not be needed until night.

President Coolidge informed Chief Justice Taft, his cabinet members and other officials who will meet the funeral train that the time of arrival was indefinite. They are keeping in touch with the constantly changing schedule.

After a conference with Senator Lodge President Coolidge issued a statement declaring that members of Mrs. Harding's official party will go to Marion for the interment ceremonies only as the guests of the town.

The president's statement follows: "The official ceremonies attending upon the burial of the late president will terminate when the remains of the president reach the train on Wednesday afternoon."

The presence and participation of representative groups of the legislative and judiciary departments of the government in Marion will be entirely on the basis of guests of the town of Marion. They will not in any way be officially in the ceremonies.

COOLIDGE RESERVES DECISION ON EXTRA SESSION REQUESTS

PRESIDENT HAS NO INTENTION OF SUMMONING CONGRESS NOW

GOMPERS SO REPORTS AFTER A CONFERENCE WITH NEW EXECUTIVE

Washington, Aug. 7.—President Coolidge apparently has no present intention of calling an extra session of congress, but those who called on him today received the impression that he had not made a final decision.

Possibility of an extra session was discussed by the president with Samuel Gompers, president, and Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor.

Mr. Gompers said the president appeared to have no intention now of calling congress together, but was reserving any definite decision.

The subject was brought up by Mr. Gompers because of his desire to submit legislative proposals on behalf of organized labor. He made an engagement to see President Coolidge early next month to submit labor policies which are to be discussed at a meeting this month of the federation's executive council.

The labor leaders spent more than a half hour with the president. The situation in the coal industry was taken up but without mention of any threatened strike.

Chairman John T. Adams of the republican national committee called on President Coolidge today to pay his respects. He said there was no discussion of policies.

Others who called included D. R. Crissinger, governor of the federal reserve board, Senator A. B. Cummins of Iowa, former Senators F. B. Kellogg of Minnesota, C. R. Rawson of Iowa; Chairman Farley of the shipping board and F. E. Scobey, director of the mint.

ROTARIANS ORDERED TO HOLD SPECIAL MEETINGS

Minneapolis, Aug. 6.—O. B. McClintock of Minneapolis, governor of the Ninth district Rotary clubs, received instructions from the international president of the Rotary clubs, instructing him to notify all clubs in this district, embracing Minnesota and North Dakota, to hold appropriate meetings in tribute to President Harding.

Note: Brainerd Rotary, acting before instructions were received, paid tribute to President Harding at its Friday meeting.

SPURGIN, "BROKE" IN MEXICO, SEEKS RETURN

Chicago, Aug. 7.—W. C. Spurgin, fugitive president of the Michigan Avenue Trust company here, who fled to Mexico shortly before a bank examiner closed his institution on July 21, 1921, is reported to be negotiating for a chance to return to face justice. Spurgin, according to advices received at El Paso, Texas, from Mexico, is "broke." He is still surrounded by the ring of desperadoes, who it is said, were his bodyguard when he carried at least $50,000 away. El Paso reports say Spurgin owes these men money and he is afraid they will kill him.

ARMED MEN SEARCH FOR MURDERER

(By United Press)
Hayward, Wis., Aug. 7.—Lead by Sheriff A. F. Quail posses of armed men today are searching the dense woods near Leamington, Sawyer county, for William Mecann, 55, Couderay farmer, who yesterday shot and killed Joe Allen on the streets of Leamington.

DEGENERATE SEEMS TO BE AT LARGE IN CITY OF BRAINERD

A degenerate seems to be at large in Brainerd. Two nights ago, on a side street with poor lighting facilities, two women were accosted by a tall, athletic looking stranger who without any ado picked up one of the women and ran some distance. The screams of the woman and her girl companion caused the man to release his hold and he fled.

Coupled with this is the story that a man, probably the same degenerate, was accosting little girls of 10 to 12 years of age.

It behooves parents to see that their youngsters observe the curfew law, and it also is incumbent on the police department to keep an eye open for this degenerate and get him behind bars.

AUTOMOBILES IN COLLISION WITH COAL CAR, ETC.

5 KILLED AND 4 HURT WHEN AUTO BUMPS COAL CAR AT GRIFFITH, IND.

3 KILLED WHEN AUTOMOBILE SIDESWIPE AUTO TRUCK NEAR MONROE, MICH.

The Kendall and Spaulding families, driving in a touring car, were unaware that they were going onto a crossing. The coal car struck their machine squarely, crushing it.

Four injured members of the party were taken to hospitals here.

FATAL ACCIDENT ON DIXIE HIGHWAY

Monroe, Mich., Aug. 7.—Three persons were killed when an automobile sideswiped an auto truck three miles north of here on the Dixie Highway early today. The dead are Morris Tadot, 21; Martha Tadot, 21, his sister, and Elmer Duvald, 17, all of Monroe.

BUSINESS SUSPENSION FRIDAY NOT DESIRED BY PRES. COOLIDGE

Washington, Aug. 7.—Although Friday has been made a day of mourning throughout the country in memory of President Harding, it will not be designated as a national holiday nor will business establishments be asked to close.

It was said today that the intention of President Coolidge was not that industry should stop except in the case of business concerns which decide voluntarily to suspend activities out of respect for Mr. Harding.

National banks are prohibited by law from closing except on national holidays, and they will remain open Friday.

The body will be taken to the home of Dr. George T. Harding, the president's father.

The body will be accompanied by the following, who are coming on the funeral train from Washington with Mrs. Harding:

Capt. Adolphus Andrews, U. S. N., the president's naval aide, and Maj. O. M. Baldwin, U. S. A., the president's army aide.

The honorary pall bearers include the speaker of the House of Representatives, the cabinet and the president pro tem of the senate.

Members of the family and personal friends are also on the funeral train.

The body will lie in state at the residence from about 2 p. m. until 10 p. m. Thursday, August 9, during which time an opportunity will be given for friends who so desire to pay their final respects. Also on Friday, August 10, the body will lie in state from 9 a. m. until 1 p. m.

At 2 o'clock the funeral cortege will be formed at the residence of George T. Harding to escort the remains to the Marion cemetery, where services will be held upon arrival.

The services at the cemetery will be held at the vault, and will be conducted by Rev. George Landis of Trinity Baptist Church, the president's home church, assisted by Rev. Jesse S. Swank, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church of Marion and close friend of the president. It is expected that President Coolidge and his immediate party will make their headquarters on the train and will leave for Washington after the services.

Mrs. Harding will return to Washington Friday evening about 6 o'clock.

HIS FAVORITE BIBLE QUOTATION

Washington, Aug. 7.—The same Bible verse from the Book of Micah used by President Harding when he was inaugurated to the highest office of the land will be read at his funeral services in the capital.

It was his favorite quotation and reads: "He hath showed thee, O man, what is good and what to do. The Lord requires of thee but to do justly, and to love mercy and to walk humbly with thy God."

MARION'S SAD HOME-COMING

Marion, O., Aug. 7.—Marion people today completed arrangements for the last rites of their leading citizen, whom they gave to the nation as its chief executive.

The sad "home-coming" of Warren G. Harding on Thursday will be attended by simple services. This is the wish of Mrs. Harding brought back to Marion by Dr. Carl W. Sawyer.

As the transcontinental funeral train sped through Ohio before dawn today, Dr. Sawyer, personal physician to Mrs. Harding and son of Brigadier General Sawyer, got details from Mrs. Harding and brought them home.

The body of the nation's twenty-

GERMAN MARK IN NEW SLUMP; 15,000,000 TO THE POUND STERLING

(By United Press)
London, Aug. 7.—The German mark was offered at 15,000,000 to the pound sterling this afternoon, with no buyers. After the bank holiday on Monday the mark opened at record low of 9,000,000 to the pound, but slumped rapidly. At 15,000,000 to the pound the mark was about 3,333,333 to the dollar.

COOLIDGE MARKS TIME ON MEXICO

PRESIDENT ORDERS HUGHES TO GO ON WITH RECOGNITION CONFERENCE

Washington, Aug. 7.—The announcement that President Coolidge sees no reason for interrupting the negotiations for the recognition of the Obregon government of Mexico or any other negotiations now in progress, was interpreted in official circles to mean that Secretary of State Hughes will be allowed to proceed with the work of the state department on the lines previously laid down by President Harding.

While the negotiations themselves are not to be interrupted, the death of the president has resulted in the postponement of an announcement concerning Mexico which had been expected on Aug. 3. It is now expected that this announcement will not be made until after the final interment at Marion on Friday.

Just what the nature of the announcement is to be has not yet been disclosed, though it is admitted that the American and Mexican commissioners who for more than three months have been at Mexico City discussing outstanding differences, have virtually completed their work and it is expected that the announcement will be a statement that their task has been finished and their recommendations are now being studied.

President Coolidge will then have an opportunity to go over the recommendations in detail and render a decision concerning their adoption. Inasmuch as the new president, as vice president, attended all cabinet meetings and was thoroughly familiar with discussions in the cabinet concerning the Mexican situation, it is believed that he has already pretty definitely determined upon his attitude toward the southern republic and it is not believed that there will be any undue delay in taking action on the recommendations. It is understood Mr. Coolidge was thoroughly in accord with Mr. Harding in the desire to see diplomatic relations resumed with the Obregon government at the earliest possible moment.

FEAR IS FELT FOR AVIATORS' SAFETY

Milwaukee, Aug. 7.—Fear was felt here today for the safety of two aviators, R. G. Conant and M. Warshawer, Milwaukee, who started on a flight across Lake Michigan this afternoon and have not been heard of since.

ninth president will not at once be buried, but will be placed in the receiving vault of the mausoleum at Marion cemetery, there to rest until a suitable monument can be erected on the Harding family burial plot.

Family funeral services will be conducted at the home of Dr. George T. Harding, aged father of the late president, at 3 p. m. Friday, and Rev. G. M. Landis, pastor of the Trinity Baptist Church will conduct the services.

Mrs. Harding specially requested that all friends of the late president call at Dr. Harding's home on Thursday evening to pay their last respects.

Marion streets today were draped with black and white crepe, and every building along the road of the procession on Friday displayed flags hanging at half-mast.

COMMISSION ASKS CITIES TO PROBE COAL SALE PROFITS

COSTS OF RETAILING COAL AND PROFITS OF RETAIL DEALER INVESTIGATED

U. S. COAL COMMISSION'S POWER MAY BE TESTED TO FIND EXTENT OF AUTHORITY

Washington, Aug. 7.—Costs of retailing coal and profits made by retail dealers can best be explored by municipal and state agencies in the interests of the community concerned, according to conclusions reached by the federal coal commission.

In a statement today the commission said it had found coal retailing inextricably associated with trucking and storage, and with the retailing of a variety of other commodities. The expense of conducting a national survey was estimated to be $2,000,000.

There seems to be a lack of information as to how far the United States coal commission has gone in the anthracite and intends to go in the bituminous industry with reference to the retailing of coal, the statement said.

To set the matter right, the commission announces that it soon discovered that more than 40,000 retail coal dealers in America, many of whom had their coal business complicated with other articles of merchandise, the appropriation would not permit a presentation relative to the investment, cost, margin and profits of each of these dealers.

The commission has done all that it could in the way of sampling in many of the municipalities of the country the retail coal trade, and will present the result of its investigation to the country, but it has not gone and cannot go into an investigation of all the retail coal dealers of America.

KILLED CHILD AND POISONED ANOTHER

(By United Press)
Rochester, Minn., Aug. 7.—Mrs. Carl O'Byrne, who killed one of her children and poisoned another, was pronounced insane today as she began recovery after attempting suicide.

Mrs. O'Byrne, who had suffered from mental trouble for several days, left a note saying she was "through with life."

"My little Francis is gone," the note said. "I have killed him. If little Paul lives, take him from me, Goodbye to all."

TURCO-AMERICAN TREATY SIGNED

Lausanne, Aug. 7.—The Turco-American treaty was signed at 4:12 p. m. yesterday.

The treaty is the fruit of long and difficult negotiations; it accords Americans most favored nation treatment and replaces the antiquated agreement negotiated in 1830.

It regulates official and commercial relations between the two countries and brings relief to Americans and American interests in Turkey by clarifying the position created by Turkey's abolition of capitulations.

The honorary pall bearers include the speaker of the House of Representatives, the cabinet and the president pro tem of the senate.

Members of the family and personal friends are also on the funeral train.

The body will lie in state at the residence from about 2 p. m. until 10 p. m. Thursday, August 9, during which time an opportunity will be given for friends who so desire to pay their final respects. Also on Friday, August 10, the body will lie in state from 9 a. m. until 1 p. m.

At 2 o'clock the funeral cortege will be formed at the residence of George T. Harding to escort the remains to the Marion cemetery, where services will be held upon arrival.

The services at the cemetery will be held at the vault, and will be conducted by Rev. George Landis of Trinity Baptist Church, the president's home church, assisted by Rev. Jesse S. Swank, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church of Marion and close friend of the president. It is expected that President Coolidge and his immediate party will make their headquarters on the train and will leave for Washington after the services.

Mrs. Harding will return to Washington Friday evening about 6 o'clock.

HIS FAVORITE BIBLE QUOTATION

Washington, Aug. 7.—The same Bible verse from the Book of Micah used by President Harding when he was inaugurated to the highest office of the land will be read at his funeral services in the capital.

It was his favorite quotation and reads: "He hath showed thee, O man, what is good and what to do. The Lord requires of thee but to do justly, and to love mercy and to walk humbly with thy God."

MARION'S SAD HOME-COMING

Marion, O., Aug. 7.—Marion people today completed arrangements for the last rites of their leading citizen, whom they gave to the nation as its chief executive.

The sad "home-coming" of Warren G. Harding on Thursday will be attended by simple services. This is the wish of Mrs. Harding brought back to Marion by Dr. Carl W. Sawyer.

As the transcontinental funeral train sped through Ohio before dawn today, Dr. Sawyer, personal physician to Mrs. Harding and son of Brigadier General Sawyer, got details from Mrs. Harding and brought them home.

The body of the nation's twenty-

GERMAN MARK IN NEW SLUMP; 15,000,000 TO THE POUND STERLING

(By United Press)
London, Aug. 7.—The German mark was offered at 15,000,000 to the pound sterling this afternoon, with no buyers. After the bank holiday on Monday the mark opened at record low of 9,000,000 to the pound, but slumped rapidly. At 15,000,000 to the pound the mark was about 3,333,333 to the dollar.

COOLIDGE MARKS TIME ON MEXICO

PRESIDENT ORDERS HUGHES TO GO ON WITH RECOGNITION CONFERENCE

Washington, Aug. 7.—The announcement that President Coolidge sees no reason for interrupting the negotiations for the recognition of the Obregon government of Mexico or any other negotiations now in progress, was interpreted in official circles to mean that Secretary of State Hughes will be allowed to proceed with the work of the state department on the lines previously laid down by President Harding.

While the negotiations themselves are not to be interrupted, the death of the president has resulted in the postponement of an announcement concerning Mexico which had been expected on Aug. 3. It is now expected that this announcement will not be made until after the final interment at Marion on Friday.

Just what the nature of the announcement is to be has not yet been disclosed, though it is admitted that the American and Mexican commissioners who for more than three months have been at Mexico City discussing outstanding differences, have virtually completed their work and it is expected that the announcement will be a statement that their task has been finished and their recommendations are now being studied.

President Coolidge will then have an opportunity to go over the recommendations in detail and render a decision concerning their adoption. Inasmuch as the new president, as vice president, attended all cabinet meetings and was thoroughly familiar with discussions in the cabinet concerning the Mexican situation, it is believed that he has already pretty definitely determined upon his attitude toward the southern republic and it is not believed that there will be any undue delay in taking action on the recommendations. It is understood Mr. Coolidge was thoroughly in accord with Mr. Harding in the desire to see diplomatic relations resumed with the Obregon government at the earliest possible moment.

FEAR IS FELT FOR AVIATORS' SAFETY

Milwaukee, Aug. 7.—Fear was felt here today for the safety of two aviators, R. G. Conant and M. Warshawer, Milwaukee, who started on a flight across lake Michigan this afternoon and have not been heard of since.

ninth president will not at once be buried, but will be placed in the receiving vault of the mausoleum at Marion cemetery, there to rest until a suitable monument can be erected on the Harding family burial plot.

Family funeral services will be conducted at the home of Dr. George T. Harding, aged father of the late president, at 3 p. m. Friday, and Rev. G. M. Landis, pastor of the Trinity Baptist Church will conduct the services.

Mrs. Harding specially requested that all friends of the late president call at Dr. Harding's home on Thursday evening to pay their last respects.

Marion streets today were draped with black and white crepe, and every building along the road of the procession on Friday displayed flags hanging at half-mast.

COMMISSION ASKS CITIES TO PROBE COAL SALE PROFITS

COSTS OF RETAILING COAL AND PROFITS OF RETAIL DEALER INVESTIGATED

U. S. COAL COMMISSION'S POWER MAY BE TESTED TO FIND EXTENT OF AUTHORITY

Washington, Aug. 7.—Costs of retailing coal and profits made by retail dealers can best be explored by municipal and state agencies in the interests of the community concerned, according to conclusions reached by the federal coal commission.

In a statement today the commission said it had found coal retailing inextricably associated with trucking and storage, and with the retailing of a variety of other commodities. The expense of conducting a national survey was estimated to be $2,000,000.

There seems to be a lack of information as to how far the United States coal commission has gone in the anthracite and intends to go in the bituminous industry with reference to the retailing of coal, the statement said.

To set the matter right, the commission announces that it soon discovered that more than 40,000 retail coal dealers in America, many of whom had their coal business complicated with other articles of merchandise, the appropriation would not permit a presentation relative to the investment, cost, margin and profits of each of these dealers.

The commission has done all that it could in the way of sampling in many of the municipalities of the country the retail coal trade, and will present the result of its investigation to the country, but it has not gone and cannot go into an investigation of all the retail coal dealers of America.

KILLED CHILD AND POISONED ANOTHER

(By United Press)
Rochester, Minn., Aug. 7.—Mrs. Carl O'Byrne, who killed one of her children and poisoned another, was pronounced insane today as she began recovery after attempting suicide.

Her 2½ year old child died from poison administered by the mother Sunday night. The other child will recover from the poison, hospital authorities said.

Mrs. O'Byrne, who had suffered from mental trouble for several days, left a note saying she was "through with life."

"My little Francis is gone," the note said. "I have killed him. If little Paul lives, take him from me. Goodbye to all."

TURCO-AMERICAN TREATY SIGNED

Lausanne, Aug. 7.—The Turco-American treaty was signed at 4:12 p. m. yesterday.

The treaty is the fruit of long and difficult negotiations; it accords Americans most favored nation treatment and replaces the antiquated agreement negotiated in 1830.

It regulates official and commercial relations between the two countries and brings relief to Americans and American interests in Turkey by clarifying the position created by Turkey's abolition of capitulations.

Postoffices To Close

Washington, Aug. 7.—Postmaster General New today ordered the closing of all postoffices Friday between 3 and 4 p. m., central standard time, in tribute to the late President Harding.

GRAND SECRETARY OF ELKS INVITED TO STATE MEETING

Fred G. Robinson, grand secretary of the Order of Elks from Chicago, one of the best known fraternal workers in the United States, will be the guest of the Minnesota State Elks at the state convention in Hibbing, Aug. 16, 17 and 18. He has been extended an invitation by Past District Deputy D. D. McEachin of Hibbing. Committees in charge of the state meeting expect that every grand officer of the state lodge will be here for the convention which promises to go down into history as the biggest Elk gathering ever held in the northwest.

The executive board in charge of the state convention reports excellent progress is being made. The badge committee today made its report. To show the elaborate details the B. P. O. E. of Hibbing are making, the decision as to the badges to be worn during the state meeting can be taken as an example of the completeness of the arrangements. Four different kinds of badges will be ordered. The officers of the grand lodge will have special hand carved bronze badges on ribbons. The insignia will be appropriate to the range. The delegates to the state convention will have badges in the shape of steam shovels, showing the visitors an insignia which is familiar to the range residents but not so familiar to the outsiders.

The members of the Hibbing Elks 1022, will have badges with the familiar welcome sign on them—thus visitors will know a Hibbing Elk the moment he sees the badge.

The big feature of the convention will be the parade. More than fifteen bands including the famous Fargo Elk band and bands from Crookston, Virginia, Eveleth, Buhl, Mankato, St. Cloud, St. Paul, Duluth, Winona, Minneapolis, Faribault, Rochester, Austin, Hibbing and Bemidji, will participate. Prizes will be given to the band making the best showing.

The Elks Ladies' Auxiliary recently organized in Hibbing is assisting in making arrangements for the entertainment of the visitors.

Brainerd Lodge of Elks at its last meeting voted to pay hotel and travel expenses of its three delegates, Clyde E. Parker, Vic Roderick and W. F. Kunitz. The exalted ruler will attend and so will 15 or 20 Brainerd members as well as a delegation from the range country running 30 or more.

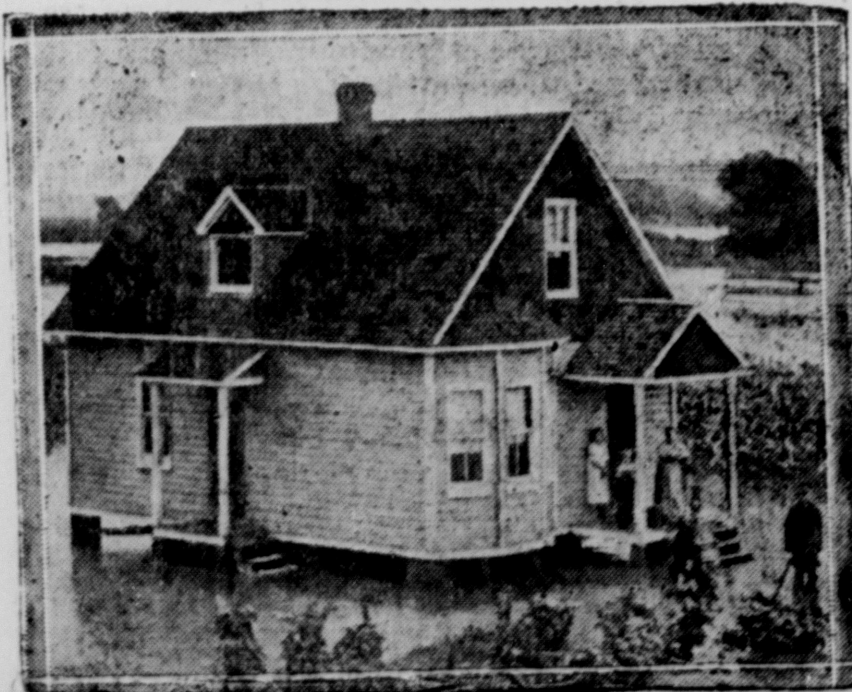

Official gathering place for the big parade will be at the Androv hotel. There has been no hotel reservations made by the lodge as a whole, but individuals desiring same should notify Secretary Aubin of the Hibbing Elks lodge or else write or wire Hibbing hotels directly.

PRESIDENT HARDING'S LAST RESPONSE

NOT since that morning in January, 1919, when the news of Colonel Roosevelt's death was carried to the American people have they sustained such a shock as that resulting from the announcement of the passing of President Harding. Partisan politics is forgotten, political recriminations are silenced and the nation bows its head in sorrow.

There is now reason for rejoicing in the fact that when the illness of the president became known to the people there was a marked effort to suppress anything of a critical character. From all quarters messages of goodwill were sent to the stricken chief-tain and leaders of the opposition party proved their good sportsmanship by sending their expressions of interest and hope for his recovery.

No matter how much political feelings may have been stirred up by certain attitudes taken by the president as leader of his party, the best men in the party in opposition remembered that as president of the United States the president represents all of the people, and out of this remembrance there came a stilling of the voices of criticism when the leader of the people was laid aside by illness.

It is well that this should be the attitude of the people. Attacks that are made upon a man whose illness prevents his defense are not characterized by their good sportsmanship and in the illness of President Harding it has been disclosed that good sportsmanship is growing in the United States. The late Senator Knute Nelson on one occasion rebuked members of the senate for their attack upon President Wilson when he was seriously ill, and it is to the credit of the members of the opposition party that no personal attacks were directed against President Harding while he lay ill.

America has lost a president who was honorable, conscientious and tolerant. He was not arbitrary and autocratic. He did not seek to impose the executive will upon the legislative branch of the government but was satisfied to employ a calm suasion in attempting to secure the cooperation of the branch of the government which enacts the laws which the executive branch is required to enforce.

Irrespective of creed or party the American people lament the passing of an honorable man, a president whose contribution to the nation's life will be better appraised as passing time shows the good that was realized by his administration and when the incidental matters that are bound up with party politics are forgotten. He was a kindly, tolerant, brotherly man who strived nobly to do his best for his country in the face of grave problems and limited by the inevitable evils that attach to partisan politics and party interests. His passing will lead the American people to consider the grave responsibilities resting upon their president, and will perhaps win for his successors a more kindly treatment as the people become aware of the heavy burden that a president bears.

The sympathy of the nation's manhood and womanhood will go out to Mrs. Harding and to the president's aged father in their bereavement, for Mrs. Harding is frail herself, and the dead leader's father is so far advanced in years that he thought it unwise to undertake the long trip from Ohio to the bedside of his illustrious son.

PRESIDENT HARDING'S LAST MESSAGE

WE are glad that Secretary Christian gave out the message which the president would have spoken to the American people if his illness had not prevented. Whoever was responsible for influencing the president to consent to his release did a thing worthwhile, despite the criticism of friends of Senator Hiram Johnson. This message summed up in a few words what the administration had accomplished and in it the late president announced that he had "fought a good fight, finished his course and kept the faith."

Calling attention to the four main tasks undertaken by the administration, President Harding summed them up in a few words as follows:

"First—The re-establishment of peace with the Central powers and the orderly settlement of those important problems of the war which directly involved the United States.

"Second—The protection and promotion, amid the chaos of conflicting national interests, of the just rights of the United States and the legitimate interests of American citizens.

"Third—The creation of an international situation, so far as the United States might contribute thereto, which would give the best assurance of peace for the future; and,

"Fourth—The pursuit of the traditional American policy of friendly cooperation with our sister republics of the western hemisphere."

This statement deals with America's relations with other peoples and with the interests of Americans in other countries. It does not touch upon the splendid accomplishments in the United States, where, through the budget system and other improved methods of government, very much has been done for the good of the country.

Much has been said in criticism of the administration's foreign policy. In his last message President Harding especially praised the secretary of state who is so largely responsible for America's foreign policy. When one turns to the conflicting interests of Europe, and sees the pitiful struggle of leaders of those governments in their effort to find a ground for unity of action, one is led to the conclusion that if they are so far apart it is unthinkable that the United States could have helped the situation much by mixing in it. And to conclude that our state department has not interested itself in settling those vexed questions is entirely wrong. Secretary Hughes, in a speech, told Europe what he thought might be done to improve the situation over there, and the third statement of the president's address points out that the administration has been working for "The creation of an international situation, so far as the United States might contribute thereto, which would give the best assurance of peace for the future."

The president's last message was a fitting conclusion to his public utterances. In substance he said: This we have accomplished, this we have attempted, and here we stand. The genius

PREACHER-BROKER PLEADS NOT GUILTY

Superior, Wis., Aug. 7.—Victor H. Arnold, Madison preacher-broker, pleaded not guilty when arraigned in Federal District Court here today on a charge of using the mails to defraud. His attorneys pleaded ill health for their client, asking a continuance of the case. The court was to rule on the motion this afternoon. Over a hundred witnesses are to be called in the case. Arnold was held of the now defunct Madison Bond company.

Mitchell, S. This is at the rate of 90 bushels to the acre. The farmer was Roy Green, manager of the Wittstruck farm, six miles south of here.

PRESIDENT HARDING'S LAST RESPONSE

NOR since that morning in January, 1919, when the news of Colonel Roosevelt's death was carried to the American people have they sustained such a shock as that resulting from the announcement of the passing of President Harding. Partisan politics is forgotten, political recriminations are silenced and the nation bows its head in sorrow.

There is now reason for rejoicing in the fact that when the illness of the president became known to the people there was a marked effort to suppress anything of a critical character. From all quarters messages of goodwill were sent to the stricken chief and leaders of the opposition party proved their good sportsmanship by sending their expressions of interest and hope for his recovery.

No matter how much political feelings may have been stirred up by certain attitudes taken by the president as leader of his party, the best men in the party in opposition remembered that as president of the United States the president represents all of the people, and out of this remembrance there came a stilling of the voices of criticism when the leader of the people was laid aside by illness.

It is well that this should be the attitude of the people. Attacks that are made upon a man whose illness prevents his defense are not characterized by their good sportsmanship and in the illness of President Harding it has been disclosed that good sportsmanship is growing in the United States. The late Senator Knute Nelson on one occasion rebuked members of the senate for their attack upon President Wilson when he was seriously ill, and it is to the credit of the members of the opposition party that no personal attacks were directed against President Harding while he lay ill.

America has lost a president who was honorable, conscientious and tolerant. He was not arbitrary and autocratic. He did not seek to impose the executive will upon the legislative branch of the government but was satisfied to employ a calm suasion in attempting to secure the cooperation of the branch of the government which enacts the laws which the executive branch is required to enforce.

Irrespective of creed or party the American people lament the passing of an honorable man, a president whose contribution to the nation's life will be better appraised as passing time shows the good that was realized by his administration and when the incidental matters that are bound up with party politics are forgotten. He was a kindly, tolerant, brotherly man who strived nobly to do his best for his country in the face of grave problems and limited by the inevitable evils that attach to partisan politics and party interests. His passing will lead the American people to consider the grave responsibilities resting upon their president, and will perhaps win for his successors a more kindly treatment as the people become aware of the heavy burden that a president bears.

The sympathy of the nation's manhood and womanhood will go out to Mrs. Harding and to the president's aged father in their bereavement, for Mrs. Harding is frail herself, and the dead leader's father is so far advanced in years that he thought it unwise to undertake the long trip from Ohio to the bedside of his illustrious son.

PRESIDENT HARDING'S LAST MESSAGE

WE are glad that Secretary Christian gave out the message which the president would have spoken to the American people if his illness had not prevented. Whoever was responsible for influencing the president to consent to its release did a thing worthwhile, despite the criticism of friends of Senator Hiram Johnson. This message summed up in a few words what the administration had accomplished and in it the late president announced that he had "fought a good fight, finished his course and kept the faith."

Calling attention to the four main tasks undertaken by the administration, President Harding summed them up in a few words as follows:

"First—The re-establishment of peace with the Central powers and the orderly settlement of those important problems of the war which directly involved the United States.

"Second—The protection and promotion, amid the chaos of conflicting national interests, of the just rights of the United States and the legitimate interests of American citizens.

"Third—The creation of an international situation, so far as the United States might contribute thereto, which would give the best assurance of peace for the future; and,

"Fourth—The pursuit of the traditional American policy of friendly cooperation with our sister republics of the western hemisphere."

This statement deals with America's relations with other peoples and with the interests of Americans in other countries. It does not touch upon the splendid accomplishments in the United States, where, through the budget system and other improved methods of government, very much has been done for the good of the country.

Much has been said in criticism of the administration's foreign policy. In his last message President Harding especially praised the secretary of state who is so largely responsible for America's foreign policy. When one turns to the conflicting interests of Europe, and sees the pitiful struggle of leaders of those governments in their effort to find a ground for unity of action, one is led to the conclusion that if they are so far apart it is unthinkable that the United States could have helped the situation much by mixing in it. And to conclude that our state department has not interested itself in settling those vexed questions is entirely wrong. Secretary Hughes, in a speech, told Europe what he thought might be done to improve the situation over there, and the third statement of the president's address points out that the administration has been working for "The creation of an international situation, so far as the United States might contribute thereto, which would give the best assurance of peace for the future."

The president's last message was a fitting conclusion to his public utterances. In substance he said: This we have accomplished, this we have attempted, and here we stand. The genius

A petition was presented to the city council at its regular meeting Monday night, by property owners on Holly street, asking that paving be put in on this street between Fifth and Seventh streets. The city engineer was instructed to prepare an estimate of the cost of this paving and present it at the next regular meeting of the council.

E. W. Schmit appeared before the council, on behalf of the Brainerd Gas and Electric Co., and asked permission to install two ornamental lamp posts in front of the gas company's offices on South Broadway. This request was granted, subject to the approval of the city engineer.

August Holmblad appeared in regard to repairs needed on an alley on Quince street. On motion, the matter was referred to the street committee with power to act. Mr. Holmblad also requested that his property be surveyed for a sidewalk, and this was ordered done and the sidewalk ordered in.

The reports of the clerk of the municipal court, the city dairy inspector and the chief of police, also the financial reports of the city clerk and city treasurer were received and ordered placed on file. ## Relaying a Sewer

Alderman C. H. Paine presented a resolution and moved its adoption which sets the wages of city employees. The first resolution failed to carry, and was revamped and presented again, carrying unanimously.

17 TO 16 FAVOR OF ST. CLOUD Brainerd Contingent Loud in Its Praise of St. Cloud's Splendid Hospitality

Twenty-five members of the Brainerd Country Club motored to St. Cloud Sunday, where a most interesting tournament was held on the golf links of that city.

St. Cloud has some very fast players, who come very close to being in the professional class. Luckily, several of them were out of the city on Sunday, and the Brainerd team was accordingly able to hold the score down to 17 to 16 in the Granite City's favor. The locals played very good golf, and their ability to hold opponents to such a close score was very encouraging.

St. Cloud has a wonderful course, much faster than the Brainerd links, and filled with traps which were the undoing of some of the visiting players.

The Brainerd contingent was loud in its praise of the entertainment afforded by the club of St. Cloud. The trip was made Sunday morning, arriving in time for dinner at the Green hotel. The tournament was over in plenty of time for an early start home.

The next event of local interest is the big weiner roast, which is to be held by the local club on August 30th. The tournament committee is already laying extensive plans for a record breaking entertainment.

Then comes the tournament with Little Falls, played on the Brainerd links on Labor day. This will be the last game with an outside club this season.

During the coming winter it is planned to form an inter-city club among eight cities of this part of Minnesota. This means that there will be seven games played on the local links next year, and seven games out of town in which the locals will participate. There is much in store for members of the Brainerd County Club during the next twelve months.

Local Horseshoe Enthusiasts Disappointed by Their Not Being at Proposed Tournament

LITTLE FALLS SEEKS GAME Want Return Game With Brainerd Between Dates August 13 and 17

Local horseshoe enthusiasts were disappointed Sunday in not being able to play off the tournament which had been scheduled with the Pequot team.

The Brainerd players were to have met the Pequot aggregation at Grand View Sunday, and the local team composed of Sam Engbretson, J. H. Warner, Henry Krause and Severt Tollefson made the pilgrimage to the scene of battle, but the Pequot shoe-tossers failed to put in an appearance. No doubt they had heard of the excellent reputation held by the above named gentlemen when it comes to throwing ringers, and rather than meet defeat, stayed away from the conflict entirely.

The Little Falls horseshoe players are anxious to get a return game with Brainerd between the dates of August 13th and 17th. This will be an interesting game, as it is probable that each team will be composed of eight men.

The local players feel the need of a good court, and the city park board is planning to install up-to-date courts at Lum park, thus adding another worth-while feature to this popular amusement place.

BAND MAKES HIT

Cornell Jazz Band Pleased Audiences at the New Park Theatre

The Cornell Jazz Band made a decided hit with audiences at the New Park theatre Saturday and Sunday, filling that playhouse to capacity at each performance.

A great many Brainerd people have heard this orchestra a number of times, since they have been broadcasted from many Northwestern radio stations, quite extensively the past few months.

It so happened that the mother of John O. Todd, manager of the Cornells, arrived in Minneapolis last week, and hearing of the popular lake resorts in the Brainerd vicinity, came to the city Saturday instead of continuing her trip eastward. She heard the orchestra and decided to spend a week at a nearby resort.

The management of the New Park is so well satisfied with the attendance on vaudeville nights that the Keith Merry Melody Makers have been booked for the next week-end. This is a musical organization of six clever young people who come highly recommended as being real entertainers.

The picture that will be featured on Saturday and Sunday is "Penrod and Sam," a sequel to "Penrod," both being taken from Booth Tarkington's story. This picture is characterized as "The Yell of the year." Kids from six to sixty will enjoy it.

Don't let the children go to see "Penrod and Sam," says Manager George Irwin, but rather bring them with you, for you will get as much amusement from the double bill as any of the youngsters.

To Our Patrons,
Brainerd, Minn.

Dear Friends:--

Skirts which staged a "come back" last season are continuing in favor. However, it should be added that the fancy skirt will continue to be the wanted one, although there are some few staple plain skirts shown.

The materials used in the fall skirts are very pretty. They are heavier particularly in their appearance. The designs are all that can be asked for. I lack space to describe them, but pretty checks and plaids pleated in beautiful designs seem to be the predominant style. I knew that the young women would be interested in skirts and would also want the correct styles. In order to have everything absolutely right I did more shopping on skirts than I thought I would, and am heartily pleased with what we shall show, not only in style, but at the prices we shall offer them. These are now being made and some should be delivered to us by August 15th to 20th.

I was told by a number that no manufacturers in New York produced prettier blouses than do firms from which I bought the new blouses. No, I can't describe them other than to say that I have never seen finer silks, laces, trimming, beads, braids and pleatings more attractively combined. Yes, high collars too. I know you will like them. We shall be able to announce their arrival before long.

What shall I say of the sweaters for fall? They are so different and there are so many styles that a description is difficult. But they are pretty and I know every girl and woman who wants a smart "sport" garment will want one.

I sent home some pretty sweaters for immediate use which may be seen now and the others will soon be shown and I shall await to see how you approve of my selection.

Sincerely,

H. Michael

No doubt they had heard of the excellent reputation held by the above named gentlemen when it comes to throwing fingers, and rather than meet defeat, stayed away from the conflict entirely.

The Little Falls horseshoe players are anxious to get a return game with Brainerd between the dates of August 13th and 17th. This will be an interesting game, as it is probable that each team will be composed of eight men.

The local players feel the need of a good court, and the city park board is planning to install up-to-date courts at Lum park, thus adding another worth-while feature to this popular amusement place.

BAND MAKES HIT

Cornell Jazz Band Pleased Audiences at the New Park Theatre

The Cornell Jazz Band made a decided hit with audiences at the New Park theatre Saturday and Sunday, filling that playhouse to capacity at each performance.

A great many Brainerd people have heard this orchestra a number of times, since they have been broadcast from many Northwestern radio stations, quite extensively the past few months.

It so happened that the mother of John O. Todd, manager of the Cornelliars, arrived in Minneapolis last week, and hearing of the popular lake resorts in the Brainerd vicinity, came to the city Saturday instead of continuing her trip eastward. She heard the orchestra and decided to spend a week at a nearby resort.

The management of the New Park is so well satisfied with the attendance on vaudeville nights that the Keith Merry Melody Makers have been booked for the next week-end. This is a musical organization of six clever young people who come highly recommended as being real entertainers.

The picture that will be featured on Saturday and Sunday is "Penrod and Sam," a sequel to "Penrod," both being taken from Booth Tarkington's story. This picture is characterized as "The Yell of the year." Kids from six to sixty will enjoy it.

Don't let the children go to see "Penrod and Sam," says Manager George Irwin, but rather bring them with you, for you will get as much amusement from the double bill as any of the youngsters.

To Our Patrons,
Brainerd, Minn.

Dear Friends:--

Skirts which staged a "come back" last season are continuing in favor. However, it should be added that the fancy skirt will continue to be the wanted one, although there are some few staple plain skirts shown.

The materials used in the fall skirts are very pretty. They are heavier particularly in their appearance. The designs are all that can be asked for. I lack space to describe them, but pretty checks and plaids pleated in beautiful designs seem to be the predominant style. I knew that the young women would be interested in skirts and would also want the correct styles. In order to have everything absolutely right I did more shopping on skirts than I thought I would, and am heartily pleased with what we shall show, not only in style, but at the prices we shall offer them. These are now being made and some should be delivered to us by August 15th to 20th.

I was told by a number that no manufacturers in New York produced prettier blouses than do firms from which I bought the new blouses. No, I can't describe them other than to say that I have never seen finer silks, laces, trimming, beads, braids and pleatings more attractively combined. Yes, high collars too. I know you will like them. We shall be able to announce their arrival before long.

What shall I say of the sweaters for fall? They are so different and there are so many styles that a description is difficult. But they are pretty and I know every girl and woman who wants a smart "sport" garment will want one.

I sent home some pretty sweaters for immediate use which may be seen now and the others will soon be shown and I shall await to see how you approve of my selection.

Sincerely,

H. Michael

DEMPSEY PICKED TO BEAT FIRPO AND WILLS

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, Aug. 7.—Many ring titles have been exchanged owners so far this year and perhaps some more champions will be displaced before the January blizzards arrive but two division leaders, Jack Dempsey and Benny Leonard, look secure on their thrones at this writing.

Dempsey has two fights in the making, with Luis Firpo and Harry Wills and, although he may have a hard fight in each bout, he ought to come out of them with his title.

The heavyweight champion's fight with Tom Gibbons in Shelby can be almost ignored in figuring Dempsey's chance in his next fights if too much time does not elapse. There is no doubt that the champion looked bad and very bad against Gibbons, but there are two ways to explain it:

Dempsey purposely carried Gibbons fifteen rounds, or

Dempsey was off form, due to his long absence from the ring.

Once before the Shelby fight, Dempsey was in the position of being forced practically into retirement because so much sentiment existed that he was too good for any of the contenders for the title and that it would be a run-away for him to defend his title.

Then came the fight with Bill Brennan in Madison Square Garden. Dempsey looked terrible for six rounds and then he stepped out and won by a knockout in the twelfth round.

The reaction from that fight was that if the slow, trial horse Brennan could go twelve rounds with the champion that the clever, spectacular Carpenter, with a one-punch knockout in his right hand, would have a good chance to win.

Dempsey-Carpenter fight was the result and it established a record for receipts that may never be equalled.

After his victory over the Frenchman, Dempsey went back into the "too good" class and he could find no work. New York was the only logical place to stage a heavyweight championship fight and the commission in New York stopped every attempt to stage a title bout.

Then came the fight with Gibbons and Dempsey looked bad again. Sentiment switched over and it was figured that if a light heavyweight could stand up for fifteen rounds against the mauler, that Dempsey was not the super-man.

This reference is not based upon any facts. It is merely a theory and is worth only that.

It is just as logical and reasonable to figure that an absence of two years from the ring threw Dempsey off his timing and his judgment of distance and that he was just rusty from lack of usage.

DE FOREST WILL NOT TRAIN FIRPO—RUMOR

St. Louis, Aug. 7.—Luis Angel Firpo, Argentine heavyweight boxer, left here for Indianapolis, Ind., minus approximately $10,000 which, according to the estimate of local promoters, his 10 round bout with Tom Cowler, called off by order of Governor A. H. Hyde, would have netted him. The bout was to have taken place here tonight. He is scheduled to box Joe Downey at Indianapolis, Wednesday.

Firpo, who arrived here Saturday from Omaha, Neb., where he won a 10 round decision over Homer Smith, had intended to leave Saturday, but changed his plans.

He said he was in good physical condition and anxious to get all the fighting possible before meeting Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion Sept. 14. He would not announce who would train him for the championship bout, but members of his party said that Jimmy DePores, would not be his trainer.

REFEREE THINGS FIRPO'S PUNCH IS HARDEST IN RING

Denver, Colo., Aug. 7.—E. W. Dickerson, who refereed the Firpo-Smith bout in Omaha, declared here today, "I do not believe the ring has ever known a man who hits harder than Firpo does with his right hand."

Dickerson added: "And it is not a looping swing, but a straight punch that does not travel more than 18 inches. Neither John L.

Sullivan, Bob Fitzsimmons or Jack Dempsey is excepted in that statement."

Dickerson declared Firpo's chances against Dempsey lie between his ability to assimilate punishment without visible effect and his great punching power.

Men of All Callings Combine To Check Spread of Divorce

A determined effort to check the ruinous maelstrom of divorce which is sweeping the United States and menacing the moral life of the country is being made by educative forces in every branch of human endeavor. Stirred into realization of the epidemic proportions of man's disregard for the tenets of the most sacred of institutions, leaders in the council halls of the nation, in the pulpit, of the press and of that most telling and most wide-spread medium for influencing the minds of the people, the animated screen, are combining for a huge campaign to save the United States from the fate that was Rome's and Greece's and Babylon's.

National uniform marriage and divorce laws—embodied in a twentieth constitutional amendment—will be sought through the present Congress. Ministerial and reform organizations are behind the movement to dig out of the archives of the Senate judiciary committee a resolution to the effect buried there and Thursday.

Further legislation designed to stop hasty and foolish marriages and to make divorce harder was introduced in the Senate by Senator Capper, Kansas. "The divorce evil threatens to undermine our entire social structure. There are more divorces in America than in all the rest of Christendom combined. It is time we gave the divorce evil consideration before disintegration sets in and destroys us as it did the mighty empires of old. If my photoplay on the subject will have the effect of causing those on the brink of a divorce who see the play to pause and weigh the step, if it will result in saving a hundred homes from disruption through the severance of marital ties, then I will feel I have put my knowledge of picture play making to its best use."

This startling unfoldment of the evils of divorce will be attraction at the New Park theatre on Wednesday and Thursday.

PRESIDENT HARDING'S LAST RESPONSE

NOT since that morning in January, 1919, when the news of Colonel Roosevelt's death was carried to the American people have they sustained such a shock as that resulting from the announcement of the passing of President Harding. Partisan politics is forgotten, political recriminations are silenced and the nation bows its head in sorrow.

There is now reason for rejoicing in the fact that when the illness of the president became known to the people there was a marked effort to suppress anything of a critical character. From all quarters messages of goodwill were sent to the stricken chief-tain and leaders of the opposition party proved their good sportsmanship by sending their expressions of interest and hope for his recovery.

No matter how much political feelings may have been stirred up by certain attitudes taken by the president as leader of his party, the best men in the party in opposition remembered that as president of the United States the president represents all of the people, and out of this remembrance there came a stilling of the voices of criticism when the leader of the people was laid aside by illness.

It is well that this should be the attitude of the people. Attacks that are made upon a man whose illness prevents his defense are not characterized by their good sportsmanship and in the illness of President Harding it has been disclosed that good sportsmanship is growing in the United States. The late Senator Knute Nelson on one occasion rebuked members of the senate for their attack upon President Wilson when he was seriously ill, and it is to the credit of the members of the opposition party that no personal attacks were directed against President Harding while he lay ill.

America has lost a president who was honorable, conscientious and tolerant. He was not arbitrary and autocratic. He did not seek to impose the executive will upon the legislative branch of the government but was satisfied to employ a calm suasion in attempting to secure the cooperation of the branch of the government which enacts the laws which the executive branch is required to enforce.

Irrespective of creed or party the American people lament the passing of an honorable man, a president whose contribution to the nation's life will be better appraised as passing time shows the good that was realized by his administration and when the incidental matters that are bound up with party politics are forgotten. He was a kindly, tolerant, brotherly man who strived nobly to do his best for his country in the face of grave problems and limited by the inevitable evils that attach to partisan politics and party interests. His passing will lead the American people to consider the grave responsibilities resting upon their president, and will perhaps win for his successors a more kindly treatment as the people become aware of the heavy burden that a president bears.

The sympathy of the nation's manhood and womanhood will go out to Mrs. Harding and to the president's aged father in their bereavement, for Mrs. Harding is frail herself, and the dead leader's father is so far advanced in years that he thought it unwise to undertake the long trip from Ohio to the bedside of his illustrious son.

PRESIDENT HARDING'S LAST MESSAGE

We are glad that Secretary Christian gave out the message which the president would have spoken to the American people if his illness had not prevented. Whoever was responsible for influencing the president to consent to its release did a thing worthwhile, despite the criticism of friends of Senator Hiram Johnson. This message summed up in a few words what the administration had accomplished and in it the late president announced that he had "fought a good fight, finished his course and kept the faith."

Calling attention to the four main tasks undertaken by the administration, President Harding summed them up in a few words as follows:

"First—The re-establishment of peace with the Central powers and the orderly settlement of those important problems of the war which directly involved the United States.

"Second—The protection and promotion, amid the chaos of conflicting national interests, of the just rights of the United States and the legitimate interests of American citizens.

"Third—The creation of an international situation, so far as the United States might contribute thereto, which would give the best assurance of peace for the future; and,

"Fourth—The pursuit of the traditional American policy of friendly cooperation with our sister republics of the western hemisphere."

This statement deals with America's relations with other peoples and with the interests of Americans in other countries. It does not touch upon the splendid accomplishments in the United States, where, through the budget system and other improved methods of government, very much has been done for the good of the country.

Much has been said in criticism of the administration's foreign policy. In his last message President Harding especially praised the secretary of state who is so largely responsible for America's foreign policy. When one turns to the conflicting interests of Europe, and sees the pitiful struggle of leaders of those governments in their effort to find a ground for unity of action, one is led to the conclusion that if they are so far apart it is unthinkable that the United States could have helped the situation much by mixing in it. And to conclude that our state department has not interested itself in settling those vexed questions is entirely wrong. Secretary Hughes, in a speech, told Europe what he thought might be done to improve the situation over there, and the third statement of the president's address points out that the administration has been working for "The creation of an international situation, so far as the United States might contribute thereto, which would give the best assurance of peace for the future."

The president's last message was a fitting conclusion to his public utterances. In substance he said: This we have accomplished, this we have attempted, and here we stand. The genius

BRAINERD AT GOLF TOURNAENT

Golf Links of St. Cloud Scene of Brilliant Assemblage and Playing Sunday

17 TO 16 FAVOR OF ST. CLOUD Brainerd Contingent Loud in Its Praise of St. Cloud's Splendid Hospitality

Twenty-five members of the Brainerd Country Club motored to St. Cloud Sunday, where a most interesting tournament was held on the golf links of that city.

St. Cloud has some very fast players, who come very close to being in the professional class. Luckily, several of them were out of the city on Sunday, and the Brainerd team was accordingly able to hold the score down to 17 to 16 in the Granite City's favor. The locals played very good golf, and their ability to hold opponents to such a close score was very encouraging.

St. Cloud has a wonderful course, much faster than the Brainerd links, and filled with traps which were the undoing of some of the visiting players.

The Brainerd contingent was loud in its praise of the entertainment afforded by the club of St. Cloud. The trip was made Sunday morning, arriving in time for dinner at the Breen hotel. The tournament was over in plenty of time for an early start home.

The next event of local interest is the big weiner roast, which is to be held by the local club on August 30th. The tournament committee is already laying extensive plans for a record breaking entertainment.

Then comes the tournament with Little Falls, played on the Brainerd links on Labor day. This will be the last game with an outside club this season.

During the coming winter it is planned to form an inter-city club among eight cities of this part of Minnesota. This means that there will be seven games played on the local links next year, and seven games out of town in which the locals will participate. There is much in store for members of the Brainerd County Club during the next twelve months.

PEQUOT MEN DID NOT APPEAR

Local Horseshoe Enthusiasts Disappointed by Their Not Being at Proposed Tournament

LITTLE FALLS SEEKS GAME Want Return Game With Brainerd Between Dates August 13 and 17

Local horseshoe enthusiasts were disappointed Sunday in not being able to play off the tournament which had been scheduled with the Pequot team.

The Brainerd players were to have met the Pequot aggregation at Grand View Sunday, and the local team composed of Sam Engbretson, J. H. Warner, Henry Krause and Severi Tollefson made the pilgrimage to the scene of battle, but the Pequot shoe-tossers failed to put in an appearance. No doubt they had heard of the excellent reputation held by the above named gentlemen when it comes to throwing ringers, and rather than meet defeat, stayed away from the conflict entirely.

The Little Falls horseshoe players are anxious to get a return game with Brainerd between the dates of August 13th and 17th. This will be an interesting game, as it is probable that each team will be composed of eight men.

The local players feel the need of a good court, and the city park board is planning to install up-to-date courts at Lum park, thus adding another worth-while feature to this popular amusement place.

BAND MAKES HIT

Cornell Jazz Band Pleased Audiences at the New Park Theatre

The Cornell Jazz Band made a decided hit with audiences at the New Park theatre Saturday and Sunday, filling that playhouse to capacity at each performance.

A great many Brainerd people have heard this orchestra a number of times, since they have been broadcast from many Northwestern radio stations, quite extensively the past few months.

It so happened that the mother of John O. Todd, manager of the Cornellsians, arrived in Minneapolis last week, and hearing of the popular lake resorts in the Brainerd vicinity, came to the city Saturday instead of continuing her trip eastward. She heard the orchestra and decided to spend a week at a nearby resort.

The management of the New Park is so well satisfied with the attendance on vaudeville nights that the Keith Merry Melody Makers have been booked for the next week-end. This is a musical organization of six clever young people who come highly recommended as being real entertainers.

The picture that will be featured on Saturday and Sunday is "Penrod and Sam," a sequel to "Penrod," both being taken from Booth Tarkington's story. This picture is characterized as "The Yell of the year." Kids from six to sixty will enjoy it.

Don't let the children go to see "Penrod and Sam," says Manager George Irwin, but rather bring them with you, for you will get as much amusement from the double bill as any of the youngsters.

To Our Patrons,
Brainerd, Minn.

Dear Friends:--

Skirts which staged a "come back" last season are continuing in favor. However, it should be added that the fancy skirt will continue to be the wanted one, although there are some few staple plain skirts shown.

The materials used in the fall skirts are very pretty. They are heavier particularly in their appearance. The designs are all that can be asked for. I lack space to describe them, but pretty checks and plaids pleated in beautiful designs seem to be the predominant style. I knew that the young women would be interested in skirts and would also want the correct styles. In order to have everything absolutely right I did more shopping on skirts than I thought I would, and am heartily pleased with what we shall show, not only in style, but at the prices we shall offer them. These are now being made and some should be delivered to us by August 15th to 20th.

I was told by a number that no manufacturers in New York produced prettier blouses than do firms from which I bought the new blouses. No, I can't describe them other than to say that I have never seen finer silks, laces, trimming, beads, braids and pleatings more attractively combined. Yes, high collars too. I know you will like them. We shall be able to announce their arrival before long.

What shall I say of the sweaters for fall? They are so different and there are so many styles that a description is difficult. But they are pretty and I know every girl and woman who wants a smart "sport" garment will want one.

I sent home some pretty sweaters for immediate use which may be seen now and the others will soon be shown and I shall await to see how you approve of my selection.

Sincerely,

M. J. Whittall

DEMPSEY PICKED TO BEAT FIRPO AND WILLS

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, Aug. 7.—Many ring titles have exchanged owners so far this year and perhaps some more champions will be displaced before the January blasts arrive but two division leaders, Jack Dempsey and Benny Leonard, look secure on their thrones at this writing.

Dempsey has two fights in the making, with Luis Firpo and Harry Wills and, although he may have a hard fight in each bout, he ought to come out of them with his title.

The heavyweight champion's fight with Tom Gibbons in Shelby can be almost ignored in figuring Dempsey's chance in his next fights if too much time does not elapse. There is no doubt that the champion looked bad and very bad against Gibbons, but there are two ways to explain it:

Dempsey purposely carried Gibbons fifteen rounds, or

Dempsey was off form, due to his long absence from the ring. Once before the Shelby fight, Dempsey was in the position of being forced practically into retirement because so much sentiment existed that he was too good for any of the contenders for the title and that it would be a run-away for him to defend his title.

Then came the fight with Bill Brennan in Madison Square Garden. Dempsey looked terrible for six rounds and then he stepped out and won by a knockout in the twelfth round.

The reaction from that fight was that if the slow, trial horse Brennan could go twelve rounds with the champion that the clever, spectacular Carpenter, with a one-punch knockout in his right hand, would have a good chance to win.

Dempsey-Carpenter fight was the result and it established a record for receipts that may never be equalled.

After his victory over the Frenchman, Dempsey went back into the "too good" class and he could find no work. New York was the only logical place to stage a heavyweight championship fight and the commission in New York stopped every attempt to stage a title bout.

Then came the fight with Gibbons and Dempsey looked bad again. Sentiment switched over and it was figured that if a light heavyweight could stand up for fifteen rounds against the mauler, that Dempsey was not the super-man.

This reference is not based upon any facts. It is merely a theory and is worth only that.

It is just as logical and reasonable to figure that an absence of two years from the ring threw Dempsey off his timing and his judgment of distance and that he was just rusty from lack of usage.

DE FOREST WILL NOT TRAIN FIRPO—RUMOR

St. Louis, Aug. 7.—Luis Angel Firpo, Argentine heavyweight boxer, left here for Indianapolis, Ind., minus approximately $10,000 which, according to the estimate of local promoters, his 10 round bout with Tom Cowler, called off by order of Governor A. H. Hyde, would have netted him. The bout was to have taken place here tonight. He is scheduled to box Joe Downey at Indianapolis, Wednesday.

Firpo, who arrived here Saturday from Omaha, Neb., where he won a 10 round decision over Homer Smith, had intended to leave Saturday, but changed his plans.

He said he was in good physical condition and anxious to get all the fighting possible before meeting Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion Sept. 14. He would not announce who would train him for the championship bout, but members of his party said that Jimmy DeForest would not be his trainer.

REFEREE THINGS FIRPO'S PUNCH IS HARDEST IN RING

Denver, Colo., Aug. 7.—E. W. Dickerson, who refereed the Firpo-Smith bout in Omaha, declared here today, "I do not believe the ring has ever known a man who hits harder than Firpo does with his right hand."

Dickerson added: "And it is not a looping swing, but a straight punch that does not travel more than 18 inches. Neither John L.

Sullivan, Bob Fitzsimmons or Jack Dempsey is excepted in that statement."

Dickerson declared Firpo's chances against Dempsey lie between his ability to assimilate punishment without visible effect and his great punching power.

Men of All Callings Combine To Check Spread of Divorce

A determined effort to check the runious maelstrom of divorce which is sweeping the United States and menacing the moral life of the country is being made by educational forces in every branch of human endeavor. Stirred into realization of the epidemic proportions of man's disregard for the tenets of the most sacred of institutions, leaders in the council halls of the nation, in the pulpit, of the press and of that most telling and most wide-spread medium for influencing the minds of the people, the animated screen, are combining for a huge campaign to save the United States from the fate that was Rome's and Greece's and Babylon's.

National uniform marriage and divorce laws—embodied in a twentieth constitutional amendment—will be sought through the present Congress. Ministerial and reform organizations are behind the movement to dig out of the archives of the Senate judiciary committee a resolution to the effect buried there and Thursday.

Further legislation designed to stop hasty and foolish marriages and to make divorce harder was introduced in the Senate by Senator Capper, Kansas.

"The divorce evil threatens to undermine our entire social structure. There are more divorces in America than in all the rest of Christendom combined. It is time we gave the divorce evil consideration before disintegration sets in and destroys us as it did the mighty empires of old. If my photoplay on the subject will have the effect of causing those on the brink of a divorce who see the play to pause and weigh the step, if it will result in saving a hundred homes from disruption through the severance of marital ties, then I will feel I have put my knowledge of picture play making to its best use."

This startling unfoldment of the evils of divorce will be attraction at the New Park theatre on Wednesday and Thursday.
